

I just got an email from Gordon the Editor of F&SF reminding writers that the nominations for the Nebulas are about to close and are now done on line. So, I guess I'm going to cringe, but do this anyway. I had a story appear in the Aug/Sept. issue of F&SF that would be eligible for both the Nebula and the Hugo. So any SWFA members take note, and any readers could also take note.

The story is called A Token of a Better Age, and it's an Edge universe story set in around 200 B.C. and it gives the real story behind the legend of St. George and the Dragon.